Story Teller

Different employment types attract different levels of fraud. This visualization compares full-time, part-time, contract, internship, and temporary jobs to determine where fraudulent recruiters are most active. Flexible work opportunities often receive more applications, making them attractive targets for scammers.

Story Teller

Required E..

This chart analyzes fraud rates based on the required experience level. It reveals whether scammers primarily target fresh graduates, entry-level professionals, or experienced candidates. Understanding this pattern helps recruitment platforms design better protection mechanisms for vulnerable applicants.
